THE DANCER

Since she was 14, all Laura Love cared for was ballet. While she'll always be a dancer at heart, it's modelling that fills her New York days now. Well, that and the "super special secret project" she's working on with her sister. Love grew up in L.A., "but was always more of an east coast girl". We rode along with her the very first time she caught the Staten Island Ferry. And you know what they say, you never forget your first.
